DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Korenman et al. '322. Korenman et al. disclose an apparatus for facilitating management by an individual of a physiological and/or psychological state of the individual comprising a display for a set of images allowing an individual to show the individual chosen by the individual to one's self (col. 4 line 62) and a device for allowing the individual to choose images from the set of images (col. 4 lines 59-60).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/26/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Korenman et al. does not allow the user to choose the images displayed. In col. 4 lines 61-65 Korenman et al. disclose a device that allows the user to chose which images will be displayed. Applicant also argues that the images of Korenman et al. change in appearance following a change desired in the patient and the present invention does not. The fact that Korenman et al. operates in a manner different than the present invention does not preclude the fact that Korenman et al. teach all of the structural limitations of the claims.

Art Unit: 3739

Applicant is reminded that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.
